As on yesterday, one of the earliest callers at the Free Bread headquarters was Commissioner Edward C. Sheeby, of the Department of Charitles and Correction. He was delighted at the progress and it was sure to the Department of Charlites and Correc-tion. He was delighted at the progress of the work, and said it was sure to meet with the support and sympathy of the generous people of New York City. As a practical charity it would do more good, he said, than any other plan which could be devised, for if there were stary-ing people in the city, they had only to

Ti was suggested that some of the boys who were in the crowd only came to get bread and then sold it to neighboring bakerles. One or two cases of this kind were detected, but in the vast natority of cases the applicants were evidently describing. Several children, who said they lived in the neighborhood, were followed to their homes and it was found that they took the bread which they had received directly to their parents, and that the poverty and destitation which they had described was genuine.

Those who had charge of the distribution of the bread say that it is not difficult to detect spurious cases, and that it was not found necessary to refuse one in fifty. Other is the carbest comers was a nearly dressed little fellow of about nine years, who said he was the oldest of the family of five children. He brought this note from his mother, who lives in a tenement-house at 413 Sixth sirect.
